AVENTURA ISLES

Audrey Brakha

CANDIDATE FOR THE HOA BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A personal commitment to transparency, accountability, and community value.

My name is Audrey Brakha. I am originally from Guatemala, married to an Israeli, a proud mother of two young adult children, and an Aventura Isles owner since the community was established.

I bring leadership and strategic experience from a Fortune 20 company, where I lead a product generating over $2 billion in revenue while meeting a strict budget and bringing cross-functional teams together to drive results. I have also served on advisory boards and community relations councils and trained in board service.

I am running because I believe our community deserves transparency, thoughtful planning, and a Board that listens to its owners.

WHY I WANT TO SERVE

At home, I serve on the Grievance Committee, where we helped cut wait times for residents who once waited two hours or more to be heard. My priorities are transparency and communication, safety and maintenance, accountability and community value, and meaningful community engagement and representation, so that Board decisions reflect the interests and future needs of our entire community.

As Aventura Isles reaches 13 years, maintenance and planning matter more than ever. I am committed to staying organized, listening to expert advice, and careful spending to protect community value and avoid unnecessary assessments. I will work to have a Board and management that understand and fulfill their respective roles, listen and respond to owners collectively.

I believe transparency builds trust, accountability strengthens our community, and homeowner involvement makes better decisions. My goal is simple: to help move Aventura Isles forward as a better-managed, more transparent, and more welcoming community for everyone. It is my family's home.

TRANSPARENCY • ACCOUNTABILITY • COMMUNITY

A Stronger Aventura Isles, Together.
